

A STARLING STORY.

In its reminiscences of Judge Hoffman, the San Francisco Examiner publishes a very startling story.

It is nothing less than the statement that the late Judge Hoffman many years ago received a letter from Abraham Lincoln tendering him the appointment of a place on the Supreme Bench of the United States.

He took a few days to consider the matter, consulted his friends and was about to accept when he was astonished to learn that Judge Stephen J. Field had been appointed and had immediately accepted. It was a great blow to Hoffman and he was too astonished to ask any explanation of Lincoln.

Subsequently while in Washington he learned that a dispatch had been received in Washington signed Ogden Hoffman, thanking Lincoln for his consideration and declining the nomination. This dispatch was a forgery and it deprived Hoffman of a seat on the Supreme Bench.

It would be a curious thing if Field has held his office all these years by a fraud.

It is a matter that demands a thorough investigation, Hoffman told this story to numerous friends before he died and it is said that this disappointment drove him to drink.

Field must have either been at the bottom of the rascally piece of business or the wealthy men he has served all these years so faithfully, were pulling the wires. The truth is bound to come out.

DECLINES THE MONEY.

The $65 raised by the APPEAL for Mrs. Pratt of San Francisco has been declined by that lady.

The money was placed in the hands of the Daily Report who had taken great interest in the matter, and that paper sent the $65 to the Children's Hospital, intending to raise more.

The lady, however, refused the money on the ground that she was not destitute as the papers reported her and in no way an object of charity.

She said: "I did not receive the $100 in exchange for a portion of my cuticle. I am a professional nurse and I wanted no compensation for that. The $100 was tendered me by the institute to compensate for the loss of time merely. I am earning a good salary as a nurse. I very much regret the newspaper notoriety, but I wish the APPEAL would thank the generous people of Carson and Nevada for their kindness, but trust the money will go to some one needing it more than I do."

The money is now in the APPEAL office and we hope that some of our subscribers will suggest some way of disposing of it. Meanwhile if any of the subscribers of the fund want their money back they can have it by calling at this office.

Mrs. Lease, the sensational Alliance orator, lately addressed a meeting of farmers in Kansas. In closing her speech and as a final admonition, she said: "Raise less wheat and corn and more hell." Where is Sir Walter Scott's "ministering angel?"

A story is telegraphed to San Francisco papers about 2000 New Jersey farmers getting drunk on beer at a picnic and fighting till overcome by exhaustion. It is a fake. The men who make the finest peach brandy in the world don't drink beer.—Exchange.

The Virginia papers still decry the Pine Nut strike. It might be a good idea to send some one there who could thoroughly investigate it. They have "fakes" enough right on the Comstock to expose, but they never think of doing so. Give us the inside of the last Comstock swindle while you are talking of "fakes."
